

March Café Scientifique

Monday 3rd March at 7pm in the bar of The Showroom

Cabin air – Safe to breathe??

Dr Murray Wilson

University of Sheffield & General Medical Council

Cabin air quality is an emotive subject, and gets blamed for many ill effects. The provision of an acceptable atmosphere for air passengers imposes constraints on the providers of many aspects of aircraft and air travel. These constraints can be resolved only by a series of compromises. Dr Murray Wilson will aim to explain who is involved, the need for compromise, and the way the atmosphere is produced, with a look at the possible effects on passengers.

Format: Generally the Café begins at 7.00pm in the restaurant area of the Showroom. We begin with a short presentation of about 20 minutes from a guest speaker, followed by a break to allow people to refresh their glasses and think of questions they may wish to ask. During the break there are also small group discussions before a larger discussion takes place which can get quite lively! For further information go to:
